I haven't either. I'm assuming that it's at $800,000, but I'll check.

Hey, I've been awake for quite awhile, and here's what I think you should do: bump up class size to the number you need to finish. I'm hoping we go out for a levy and that's what will mean the most and come up first. What else is there at this point?

What is the status of the conversation about transportation savings? I have not heard much about this recently.

[REDACTED] and I were wondering about it yesterday [REDACTED]
